

Building Healthier Communities in Canada

With a $500,000 Donation to Markham Stouffville Hospital

Hashem Ghadaki and Saeid Aghaei, of Times Group Corporation, are building more than just homes. They are helping build a healthier community. Originally from Iran, the developers are giving back to their adoptive country and chose to support Markham Stouffville Hospital with a gift of $500,000.

The Hospital is planning an expansion, slated to begin in 2010. More beds and operating rooms are necessary to meet the needs of our growing community. Plans also include building on the Hospital's excellence in diagnostic imaging and adding more clinic space so the community can better access "wellness" services, such as rehabilitation and diabetes education.

MAJESTIC COURT RENDERING

"We love Canada! This is the best country. Some people don't know how lucky we are to have a great health-care system. We want to ensure that our community continues to receive equal access to excellent care."

Hashem Ghadaki, President, Times Group Corporation

The Times Group Team

"The best way to give back to the community is to give to the Hospital because the gift will have the biggest impact. We know our gift will touch the most lives – children, the elderly and all those who need care. Health care is a universal cause –it benefits everyone."

Saeid Aghaei, Principal, Times Group Corporation
